

Students' Guide to Accessing SAM Learning

Go to www.samlearning.com

Username

Your username is usually your date of birth in six numbers followed by your initials e.g. for John Smith born on 23rd March 2001, it would be '230301js'

It's possible that your username is different to this because either there is another student with the same initials and date of birth as you or because your initials are different on the school's computer system (perhaps your legal and preferred names are different). In this case, you need to ask any teacher to log in to SAM Learning themselves and click on "Classes" then "Manage Users". They will then be able to search for your account and let you know your username.

Password

Your password will initially be the same as your userid. If you have changed your password and forgotten it, you can ask any teacher to log in to SAM Learning themselves and click on "Classes" then "Manage Users". They will then be able to select your account and click on a 'Reset Password' link.

Using the System

You can click on any subject from the opening screen to start working. Your class teachers may also set you specific tasks to complete.
